Dear Parents,

The theme of this week was getting ready for Thanksgiving. We will continue this theme next week as well. The highlight of our week was creating a joint Turkey mural that is now hanging on our wall. We used simple color patterns to paint the feathers and enjoyed painting the body and pasting feathers on it. We of course needed to give our turkey a name. We each came up with a name we liked and then voted on them all. The name that was chosen was..... Another highlight has been singing the silly turkey song together.

This week we learned the Parsha of the week, Parshat Toldot. The story of Rivka giving birth to twins, Yakov and Eisav. We made puppets showing how different Yakov and Eisav were. We learned how Eisav sold his birthright for a bowl of lentill soup and how Yakov received the blessing from his father Yakov.

Guess what we learned this week? Turkeys are amazing birds, and they make the coolest sound –gobble-gobble! Our curious Olives have been giggling and clapping as they discovered the wonders of these feathered friends. We even flapped our wings in excitement, trying to mimic our newfound turkey pals!

We loved the song from Kiboomers the turkey is a funny bird.

The Turkey is a Funny Bird

The turkey is a funny bird.
Its head goes wobble, wobble.
And all it knows is just one word:
"Gobble, gobble, gobble."
